INTRODUCTION

The Premier's Council on the Status of Disabled Persons is pleased to present this 18th edition of the Directory of Services Offered to Persons with Disabilities in New Brunswick, which incorporates new services, as well as changes that have taken place in the programs and services previously listed that have been brought to our attention during the past year.

If you find errors in any of the listings, or if you are aware of other services in your area that could possibly be included in the Directory, please let us know.

Our intentions are to provide a descriptive list of services and programs offered by non-profit organizations or government to the people of the province with disabilities. The Council is not responsible for the actual delivery of these services, however; and it is not our goal to imply an evaluation or judgement of the degree of professionalism of the services listed.

The previous editions of our Directory have proven to be very useful in the past and we hope that this new version will be of assistance to you.

For monthly updates, contact the office or check the website.

Family and Community Services administers a number of housing programs that are jointly funded with the Federal government, as well as others that are 100% provincially funded. It should be noted that these housing programs might be altered from time to time to meet changing needs and circumstances. It is best to contact the appropriate regional housing office (see page 10) for information regarding the full particulars of these programs.

Community Involvement Program : To improve the quality of life for current public housing residents and their neighbours in and around the public family housing communities. The program uses a community development approach, helping the residents to initiate collective action in order to change their environment to better meet their material, social and psychological needs.

Emergency Repair Program : To assist low-income homeowner households requiring urgent repair to render the unit fit for continued safe habitation. This assistance is in the form of a non-repayable loan.

Federal/Provincial Repair Program : This program is offered by the Family and Community Services and provides four types of financial assistance :

1. Modifications to low income homeowner and rental units to improve the accessibility of the dwelling for occupants with disabilities.
2. Adaptations for low-income seniors who have difficulty with daily living activities in the home.
3. Provides assistance for limited modifications to eligible households to accommodate an aging parent.
4. Low-income homeowners occupying existing substandard housing to repair, rehabilitate, or improve their dwellings to a minimum level of health and safety.

To qualify : Households whose income is below the established "housing income limits" which vary by household size and by geographical areas within the province.

Other conditions:

- Modifications required for people with disabilities must be housing related and/or provide access to permanently installed basic facilities within the dwelling; or
- Adaptations for seniors must facilitate and prolong independent living (i.e. using the kitchen and getting around hallways); or

- Own the home and live in it; and
- Requires major repairs or lacks basic facilities in one or more of the following areas : structural; electrical; plumbing; heating; fire safety; or serious cases of overcrowding.

Program Details :

- A portion of the loan may not have to be repaid; this portion is called forgivable. The amount of forgivable loan is based upon a sliding income scale and the amount of required repairs.
- The maximum forgivable loan available to improve the accessibility of the dwelling for disabled persons is $10,000. (Rental properties are not eligible for a repayable loan).
- The repayable loan amount is at the provincial borrowing interest rate and can be repaid over a period of up to 15 years.

The maximum forgivable loan available to assist low-income seniors who require minor adaptations to assist with daily living in the home is $2,500 for both renters and homeowners. (A repayable loan is not available for adaptations for seniors).

Home Completion Loan Program : To offer financial assistance to low and modest income households to complete their partially constructed homes. Occupants must own and occupy, or intend to occupy, a partially completed house and have been a resident of New Brunswick for at least one year. The assistance comes in the form of a repayable loan sufficient to complete the home, to a maximum allowable amount of $30,000.

Home Orientation and Management Program : To give social housing tenants the opportunity to augment their basic life skills at a series of workshops. The objective is to help participants make the move from their former accommodation to their new home :

- to provide information on home maintenance, budgeting, and resources available to meet their shelter related needs;
- to promote self-confidence and a sense of pride;
- to provide advice to participants who move out of a social housing unit into the private market;

Training sessions and individual counselling are free to all social housing participants.

Home Ownership Program : To provide financial assistance to low and modest income families to help them buy or build a modest first home. Applicants must meet the following requirement: be a first-time home owner or be living in a substandard housing unit; be a resident of New Brunswick and have been living here for at least one year; have a good credit rating and meet all financial institution lending requirements for obtaining a first mortgage; and have a 5% down payment if purchasing an existing home. If purchasing an existing unit, the department will provide assistance in the form of a repayable loan for 20% of the purchase price of the unit. If building a house, a maximum of $40,000 will be provided for assistance in the form of a repayable loan. This contribution is not to exceed 50% of the total house costs.

Non-Profit and Co-op Housing : Existing non-profit groups and organizations assist low-income households in the provision of safe, affordable and accessible housing units. Households, who pay more than 30% of their income for adequate and suitable housing in the private market and those with special purpose housing needs, can make an application to their local non-profit group or organizations for housing consideration. Tenants are selected on the basis of demonstrated need.

Non-Profit Capital Grant Program : To offer financial assistance to public and private organizations to construct/acquire affordable rental housing projects for seniors, families and individuals with special needs. The department will provide funding up to $50,000 to eligible sponsors to reduce the capital cost of the project. In addition, FCS could provide advice and technical support to organizations in developing their housing projects.

Public Housing Program : To assist one and two parent families, non-elderly singles and senior citizens, who, because of low income, experience difficulty in obtaining adequate and affordable rental housing. Tenants for public housing rental units are chosen on demonstrated need.

Rent Supplement Program : To assist households in need to obtain affordable, adequate and suitable rental accommodation by subsidizing rents in the private rental sector. The program provides assistance to eligible tenants by reducing their rent to 30% of their adjusted household income. Landlords will receive the difference between the rent paid by the tenant and the market rent agreed to under a rental agreement.

Rental and Rooming House Rehabilitation Assistance Program : These two programs offer financial assistance to landlords/owners for mandatory repairs to :

- self-contained units that are substandard and rented to low-income households; or
- to rooming houses with bed units that are affordable to low-income occupants

The assistance is in the form of a forgivable loan. The maximum amount for each self-contained unit is $18,000 and $12,000 for each bed unit. Owners must contribute 25% of the total cost of eligible repairs and enter into a rental agreement to ensure that rents remain affordable to low-income occupants.

Rural and Native Housing/Basic Shelter Program : To provide housing to eligible off-reserve native and non-native households who require affordable, adequate and suitable accommodations in rural communities with a population of less than 2,500 residents.

ADULT DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES, PROGRAMS AND TRAINING (A.D.A.P.T.)

A.D.A.P.T. is a program that provides long term care clients appropriate opportunities to learn skills in centre or community based settings. Through a supported environment, A.D.A.P.T. focuses on the development and provision of valued training and activities and encourages appropriate behaviour, respect of daily schedules, dress, social habits and all other expectations that are placed on an adult individual.

A.D.A.P.T. services are designed to meet the participant's needs on a full-time or part-time basis. Although A.D.A.P.T. services, for the most part, are developmental in nature and designed to meet the needs of the clients, as a result of this service, families and guardians of the client receive valuable hours of respite.

Individuals who have been assessed as eligible for long term care services and for whom it has been determined hat this type of activity is appropriate can be referred to an A.D.A.P.T. program. The individual must be willing to participate in personal growth activities based on his or her interests and strengths.

COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL NEEDS :

The Community-Based Services for Children with Special Needs Program (CBSCSN) under the Department of Family and Community Services offers services to families who are unable to provide all the care and support required to meet the special developmental needs of their severely disabled child. CBSCSN is a voluntary program, so families must demonstrate that in addition to the other community services they are accessing, their child still has some unmet needs. This program is not insured, so families must be prepared to contribute financially, where possible, to the additional services offered.

To be eligible a child must have a severe physical and/or intellectual and/or emotional and/or behavioural disorder, which is life-long in nature and affects their daily living. The child must be under 19 years of age, and both they and their family/guardians must be residents of New Brunswick with valid Medicare cards.

Once a child is admitted to the Community-Based Services for Children with Special Needs Program, an individual Service Plan is developed to determine the child's strengths, needs, and the services require. Depending on the child's special needs, identified in the Service Plan, services or items may be purchased to assist the family in providing the care and support the child requires. Some of these services or items covered are respite care, attendant care, medical and rehabilitation transportation, recreational opportunities and home support services.

Children whose families do not have private health insurance may be eligible for a health card that covers items such as prescription drugs, dental care, optical care, medical and rehabilitation equipment and supplies related to their specific special needs.

Residential resources (foster homes and group homes) are available to children whose needs are greater than what can be met by their families.

Long Term Care Program

Long term care services refer to a range of personal support, physical, social and mental health services needed by adults and seniors who, because of functional limitations, must have help to live as independently as possible. The objective is to provide appropriate long term care services at the appropriate time and in the appropriate place within the overall continuum of care.

Services range from in-home support services to services in residential settings, including adult residential facilities (special care homes and community residences) and nursing homes.

In-Home Support Services

In-home support services are provided to eligible clients who can be maintained at home. The types of services available include counselling, homemaker/housekeeper, meals on wheels, relief care etc. Clients who require more services than can be provided in their homes may be eligible for services in a residential facility.

Residential Facilities

Residential Facilities are approved to provide specific levels of care. Generally, nursing homes provide services to clients, mostly seniors, who require a high level of care and professional nursing services on a regular basis; community residences provide residential services to adults who require a high level of care, but do not require professional nursing services on a regular basis; special care homes provide residential services to clients (adults and seniors) who do not require a high level of care and professional nursing care on a regular basis.

Nursing Home Services

Nursing homes, licensed by the Nursing Homes Services Branch of the Department of Family and Community Services, provide long term care for eligible individuals whose care needs are greater than the family and other informal or formal community care resources and residential facilities can provide. The Long Term Care Program is responsible for determining eligibility for nursing home placement.

Housing and Income Support

The Housing and Income Support Branch of Family and Community Services offers a number of financial programs. Its responsibility includes all income programs including Social Assistance, Disability Income programs, and financial assistance for day cares. Some services are open to all clients of the Department while some are only available to clients with disabilities. Clients must apply or ask for each service. Applicants should request refusals to be put in writing so they can appeal later if necessary.

Health Services Program – The Health Services Program under Family and Community Services, also referred to as the "health card", assists eligible clients with the purchase of certain basic items not ordinarily covered by Medicare or private health plans. Eligible equipment items can include wheelchairs, bathroom aids, patient lifts, walkers, repairs, replacement parts, hearing aids, orthopedic items, ostomy supplies, prosthetic items, oxygen and other respiratory equipment, etc.

A health card is provided to the following clients of the Department of Family and Community Services:

- Social Assistance clients and their dependents;
- Individuals who have special health needs and qualify under Section 4.4 of the Family Income Security Act and Regulations for extended health care;
- Children in the care of the Minister;
- Residents of nursing homes, special care homes, community residences and psychiatric hospitals;
- Children with special needs who are clients of the Community Based Services for Children with Special Needs Program (CBSCNSN), where the family demonstrates financial need. These children may receive a health card for specific items directly related to the child's special needs.
- Children where it has been recommended that income assistance be provided for board and lodging (Section 22).

Childhood Immunization Program (Children 1-16 years of age) - This program provide protection against many childhood, vaccine-preventable diseases. Routine immunizations are offered to children by Public Health Nurses in Pediatric Immunization Clinics and to 16 year olds at school, and via physicians through their office. The Victorian Order of Nurses provide hepatitis B immunization to all Grade four students in the school setting.

Dental Health Activities - These activities focus primarily on reducing the incidence of dental disease and improving the level of oral hygiene among elementary school children. A principal component is a weekly fluoride mouth rinse program for all children in grades 1-6.

Early Childhood Initiatives - This program is designed to help parents give their children the best start in life, to grow strong and healthy in a healthy family. The Public Health components of the program include :

Prenatal - Services include prenatal screening to identify those pregnant women most in need, education and counselling to address specific needs, and nutrition supplementation, as necessary.

Postnatal - Services to children 0 to 5 years of age include screening of all newborns and their families to identify those infants who are most at-risk of developmental delay, education and counselling to address specific needs and nutrition supplementation.

3.5 Year Old Health Clinic - All 3.5 year old children and their families are invited to attend a 3.5 Year Old Health Clinic. Services include a comprehensive health assessment of a child's vision, hearing, speech/language, general physical growth and development, safety, nutrition, immunization status, and behaviour. In collaboration with the family, referrals to various health providers are made based on the results of these assessments.

International Travellers' Clinics - Education, counselling and immunizations are provided to international travellers by Public Health Nurses. There is a fee for the immunizations provided at these clinics.

Nutrition Services - Nutrition information is available through the public health office.

School Health - Limited health consultation referrals and counselling are offered by public health nurses who visit schools on a periodic basis.

TESS - Training and Employment Support Services for Persons with Disabilities

The Training and Employment Support Services (TESS) for Persons with Disabilities program offers training and employment services that enable persons with disabilities to achieve their occupational goal or obtain employment.

The purpose of TESS is to decrease the barriers faced by persons with disabilities so that they may be as competitive as the non-disabled population in their search for employment.

Although everybody's needs are different, some of the services a TESS client may be eligible for include counselling to help decide on a career plan, adaptive equipment required to pursue a career goal, and assistance with special educational or training costs.

For more information, contact a TESS coordinator at one of the following locations :

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is a national, voluntary agency providing specialized rehabilitation and support services to individuals to whom loss of vision is a central problem in personal and social adjustment. The CNIB also acts as a consultant and resource agency to the helping professions, government departments and private industry.
The basic aim of the CNIB is to help blind and visually impaired people find ways to lead satisfying lives. The CNIB is committed to helping anyone with a vision problem that cannot be corrected using ordinary lenses and that significantly affects the person's ability to function normally.

CNIB's specific objectives are to improve the condition of the blind of Canada, to prevent blindness and to promote sight enhancement services. To carry out these objectives, CNIB offers specific core services which address the special needs of blind and visually impaired persons. These include counselling with respect to vision loss and referral to appropriate services, instruction in daily living skills and communication techniques such as Braille, white cane instruction, low vision assessments and training, technical aids assessment and training, vocational and employment counselling and placement, talking and Braille books and magazine library services, and specialized children's services including a toy and resource lending library. CNIB also sponsors the Wise Owl industrial eye safety program. In addition, a wide range of pamphlets and other resource materials are available to the community.

Four regional centres located in Bathurst, Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John are now fully equipped to produce Braille in either English or French for the benefit of all Braille users. For a nominal fee, they will also do Braille transcription for individuals or groups when time and resources will permit.

CNIB has trained staff and volunteers available to do presentations and workshops. These workshops can range from general information about CNIB or blindness and visual impairment, to in-service presentations dealing with specific rehabilitation issues. They also have trained volunteers to do eye safety presentations for industry, recreation and education facilities.

In order to ensure effective service delivery to blind and visually impaired persons throughout the province, CNIB coordinates its services through the following offices :

Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC) is committed to the principle of equity in employment. Persons with disabilities are one of the four designated groups for HRDC programs and services. The other groups designated by the Employment Equity Act are women, aboriginal peoples, and members of visible minority groups.

Programs under the Labour Force Development Strategy have equity objectives, some with a percentage of places targeted for members of the designated groups. In order to be selected for these and/or other special programs and services, individuals must inform HRDC staff of their status as a member of one of the designated groups. This can be done in person or by completing the voluntary self-identification section on applications or other HRDC forms.

At the HRDC Regional Office, a Planning and Accountability Consultant is available to liaison with provincial groups and agencies interested in employment for persons with disabilities. An Employment Equity Consultant is also available to assist employers to implement employment equity programs and hire members of the designated groups.

At the local HRDC centres, liaison to employment counselling, referrals to jobs or training and other services are available. For further information, contact one of the following resource centres or their branch office :
